This additional yards for stock at the fair grounds were completed Saturday and the carpenter force placed at work on the new line of bleachers that will flank the grandstand. Goat's Milk Should Be Boiled Before Drinking

Milk Fever Is Transmitted by Goat's Milk and Has Affected Entire Families on Goat Ranches in Texas and New Mexico.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—

Scientists of the bureau of animal industry have compiled a bulletin which is of practical interest to all who raise goats and to such invalids as have been prescribed goat's milk as a diet. Proofs have conclusively established that the transmission of a fever known variously as "milk fever," "milk typhoid" or by certain other designations, to man is accomplished by the milk of infected goats. Careful observation in Texas and New Mexico show that the disease has always made its appearance among people connected with goat raising. Entire families have been taken sick with it on goat ranches. The sickness appears usually after the kidding season, during the months of April, May, and June, when the people are in close contact with the goats.

Observations have also shown that just over the border in Mexico goat herders are not nearly so liable to the disease. Conclusions have been drawn that this is not due to any natural immunity but to the fact that the Mexicans always boil the milk before drinking it, while the Americans use it raw. The general opinion has prevailed that the United States is free from milk fever and that the disease has only occurred through importations. However, it now seems evident that the milk fever has existed in Texas and New Mexico for at least 25 years. The fever takes its name from Great Britain's island in the Mediterranean where the disease has been exceedingly prevalent among soldiers and sailors. Its occurrence in tropical and sub-tropical localities has been noted in almost every country. A number of cases have been reported among our soldiers who had just returned from the Philippine islands.

Pasteurization of infected milk for twenty minutes at 145 degrees Fahrenheit is sufficient to destroy the organism which transmits the disease. Therefore, milk pasteurized for the destruction of typhoid and tuberculous germs will also be free from the milk fever germ. The symptoms in human beings are usually pronounced and give rise to a more or less severe fever. The most striking symptom is an attack of fever with periods of normal temperature. The duration of these periods varies considerably during the disease. The fever may be remittent or intermittent; it may be continuously high or low, and at all stages of the disease the type of fever may change. It may be very acute from the onset, the fever setting in with chills and rise of temperature associated with severe headache and pain in the back, and a general ill feeling. The pulse and respirations are generally affected in accordance with the height of the fever. The course of the disease may extend for from six weeks up to a year and cases have even been observed in which relapses have occurred for three years. In human beings the mortality is estimated at 3 per cent.

In animals the course of the disease always appears to be protracted. Cases have been noted in goats that extended over a period of more than a year. The prognosis in animals is always favorable as far as the health is concerned. But although the disease has not been proved to be a public health and it is particularly important since there has been a tendency recently among physicians to advise the drinking of goat's milk for children and invalids.

GOOD ROADS

Ten Santa Fe Automobiles Will Take Trip to Taos for Fiestas of San Geronimo

Arthur Seligman to Head Tourist Party; Las Vegas Motorists Plan Survey Around Circle; New Road Will Be of Great Commercial Benefit to Clarendon County; Working on Highway Out of Roswell.

Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 25.—A communication has been received in Las Vegas from Santa Fe announcing that on next Saturday morning a party of about ten cars would leave Santa Fe on a circle trip covering over 400 miles. The trip is a good road booster's tour and will be taken from Santa Fe through Las Vegas, Raton and Trinidad to Taos, where the party will take in the San Geronimo fiestas that is scheduled to be given on September 29.

Arthur Seligman of Santa Fe is heading the delegation from the Capital City and is anxious that a party of Las Vegas motorists take the trip. The Santa Fe delegation will arrive here at noon on September 27 and immediately after dinner will continue the trip to Raton. This is a chance for Las Vegas to show the progressive spirit, say the road boosters. The trip will be an enjoyable one and no doubt will be a factor toward accomplishing some good results for road work.

WHITE PATHFINDER TO VISIT SANTA FE

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 25.—The White pathfinder will arrive here at noon on September 27 and immediately after dinner will continue the trip to Raton. This is a chance for Las Vegas to show the progressive spirit, say the road boosters. The trip will be an enjoyable one and no doubt will be a factor toward accomplishing some good results for road work.

The party will leave Pueblo, Colorado, on the 25th of September, be in Taos on the 26th, Las Vegas on the 27th, and arrive in Santa Fe on the 28th. They will leave Santa Fe for Taos on the 29th, be in Taos on the 30th and in Santa Fe on October 1st. From Santa Fe they will go to Albuquerque, Magdalena, Springville, Arizona, and Flagstaff, and be at the Grand Canyon on the 9th and 10th. They will return from the Grand Canyon via Gallup, Durango, Colorado, and Alamosa to Pueblo.

The party will consist of Messrs. James A. Harris, advertising manager of the White company; N. L. Arnick, photographer, of New York City, and John P. Dods, manager of the Automobile Blue Book Publishing company of Chicago.

LAS VEGAS BOOSTERS TO TAKE BIG AUTO TRIP
Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 25.—A number of Las Vegas road boosters are planning a big automobile trip to be taken over the highways now being repaired by the county road board and the board of county commissioners. The trip probably will be taken next month.

The present plans are to start from this city early in the morning, take the road to Onava and from there drive to Los Alamos and Sapello over the river road and return to Las Vegas on the new Mora road. The trip is expected to prove interesting and show the character of the work that is being done on the roads. More definite announcements will be made as the boosters the first part of next month.

The contract for the work to be done on the Watrous road at the Kate Wright place was awarded this week to J. D. Hand, who will complete the work before October 30. This place for the past few months has been one of the worst on the road. The repairs will consist of a fill which will measure three feet in depth, 20 feet in width and 1,500 in length. The top cover of the fill will be of cinders.

Mr. Hand will use a steam engine and a grader and will construct a ditch from Onava to the place where the fill is to be made. The ditch is

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emery, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

WORKING ON AUTO ROAD IN CHAVEZ COUNTY

Roswell, N. M., Sept. 24.—The twelve miles of auto road from the deep lakes bluffs to the main county road which is to be a part of the southern national highway, is getting into shape rapidly. Teams have been at work with grader, plows, scrapers, etc., during the week past. President Ford was at the junction during the week and the people of Tinnie and Picoche promised him to do much work on the route along their way. He will, in the next few days, get busy on the west county road into Lincoln county. This needs repair work badly.

AWFUL SUFFERING IN THE BALKANS SAYS MILES

General Reports Thousands of Wounded Unaided at Scene of Strife; Appeals to Humanity for Help.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald) Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—"If we have reached a higher, nobler and more humane civilization I trust it may be demonstrated by a prompt response to the cry of distress that now comes to us from unhappy Bulgaria." In these words Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles of the United States army, who recently returned from Europe, where he beheld inconceivable misery, appeals to his fellow countrymen through the American Red Cross to relieve the suffering of uncared for wounded soldiers and the despair of helpless and homeless women and children.

The communication which the American Red Cross received from General Miles is as follows:

"As a charter member of the American Red Cross, I feel it a duty again to call attention to the appalling destruction of life in the Balkans, the desolation of large districts of country and the terrible condition of the wounded, especially in the territory of Bulgaria, from whence I have just returned. During the war with Turkey, the losses in killed and wounded were unprecedented. The Montenegro army lost 25 per cent of the men engaged, while the Bulgarian army lost 50,000 men. It is not necessary here, or now, to say who was responsible for this war. Those who are responsible for wars and railroad disasters are not the ones who suffer. It is sufficient to say that one of the most desperate and destructive wars of modern times has been fought within the last few months, leaving whole districts of country devastated. Every home and harvest field has been burned or destroyed. "At the capital of Bulgaria the railroad officials reported that 50,000 disabled men have been received. I saw the general and field hospitals all overcrowded with wounded men, and in one field there were four thousand wounded men without shelter from the sun or rain. The highest military officials reported over 100,000 men killed and wounded in the Bulgarian army, and it is reasonable to say that an equal number was disabled in the opposing armies. Every lady at the national capital, including her majesty the queen, was acting as nurse to relieve the suffering."

"I saw more than 150,000 refugees who had fled from the cruel atrocities of the invader. In one group of these twenty-five babies died in a single night from exposure and starvation. Many of the poor wounded soldiers have now no homes, for their country has been taken by foreign powers and their families, those that are alive, are wandering half starved. Among the refugees. These facts give you a picture of the inhumanity and cruelties of war. Those who suffer are often in no way responsible. The reports of atrocities have been exaggerated, though some have been committed under the desperate excitement of fierce warfare."

"If we have reached a higher, nobler and more humane civilization, I trust it may be demonstrated by a prompt response to the cry of dis-trass that now comes to us from unhappy Bulgaria. No more urgent cause was ever presented than the present, and no more urgent appeal was ever made to the generous human spirit of America than the one now made to aid to the American Red Cross at Washington to be forwarded to her majesty, the queen of Bulgaria, who is at the head of the Red Cross of that country."

"Though their sufferings were not so great, and their means of relief more ample, I would also recommend that a part, say one-fourth, be sent to the Red Cross of Serbia."

"With great respect,
"Very sincerely yours,
"NELSON A. MILES,
"Lieut. Gen. U. S. Army."

Chinese Smuggling Increases.
Washington, Sept. 25.—An increase in the smuggling of Chinese into the United States, alarming in its proportions, has induced the immigration authorities to redouble their vigilance, particularly along the southern borders of the country.

Commissioner General of Immigration Caminetti has directed inspectors of his bureau to take special precautions to prevent Chinese from entering the country illegally. Early next week Richard H. Taylor, immigration inspector at large, will begin a trip along the southern border of the country to see that the order is rightly complied with. Later he will extend his trip to points on the Pacific coast.

Scores of Chinese recently have been apprehended in the United States who gained entrance across the Mexican border. Many of them passed through this country to Mexico in bond, ostensibly to become laborers on Mexican plantations. Some of them were arrested on the northern side of the border within ten days of their arrival in America. All of these are being deported to China.

Wealthy Jap Murdered.
San Francisco, Sept. 25.—J. H. Nakada, a wealthy Japanese merchant and for many years official interpreter in the police courts, was assassinated while walking along his railway of his office building. Nakada was shot in the back, two bullets piercing his lungs.

No one saw the murder. The police ascribe it to Japanese white slavery. Nakada had incurred the enmity of certain Japanese, who believed he had given information to the federal authorities which resulted in the deportation of Japanese women as undesirable aliens.

Nakada had a wife and three children.

Big Fire on Black Sea.
Constantinople, Sept. 25.—A great fire has occurred at Ordu, a port of Asia Minor, on the Black sea. The market place and 1,000 houses have been destroyed.

More Dynamite in Los Angeles.
Los Angeles, Sept. 25.—A huge pier built at the foot of Center street, Venice, was partially destroyed last night. It is believed by the police that dynamite was used by persons unfriendly to the contractor, who is said to have declared a lock-out against union workmen.
